Mosè Ricci is Full Professor of Urbanism at Sapienza University of Rome, Visiting Professor at several international universities, Emeritus of the Italian Republic for Art and Culture since 2003. Medea is a research project, a design workshop and an international network of Mediterranean universities activated in 2023.

Ghada Bilal, now Visiting Professor at University of Campania "Luigi Vanvitelli", is Dean of the High institute of Regional Planning and Associate Professor on Environmental Engineering University of Damascus, Syria.

The seminar focuses on research projects and design workshops that are being developed in different parts of the Mediterranean through an open and mobile network of students and teachers. The revitalization of the Barada River as ecological infrastructure is an emblematic case study of urban regeneration in the center of Damascus.

The seminar is open to all students of the courses of study and PhD who also intend to participate in future projects on the Mediterranean.
